Prabhu jokes about fee

Actor-director Prabhudeva (left), whose film, ABCD, has opened with an outstanding collection, says he might just hike his price as an actor now.

"I think I should hike my price now. Let me think how much I should demand for my next film. Jokes apart, I'm extremely happy that people are loving the film," he says.

Based on dance, the film had a budget of about ₹12 crore, and managed to collect around ₹5.50 crore on its opening day. Prabhu says he might be in the sequel of ABCD as well.

"I might be in the sequel. Although, I have not been approached so far. It's too early to talk about the sequel right now. They (the filmmakers) would talk about the sequel at least after a month," he says.

On the reaction to his film of people down south, Prabhu says: "The film has got good response in Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka. It will be releasing in Tamil Nadu this month."

'Every role requires glamour'

Actor Neha Dhupia (above) feels that every role requires some glamour quotient.

"Nowadays everyone is glamorous. The girl next door is glamorous too. When I did Julie and I did a backless shot, people were talking about it. But now everyone does it. It is not a big deal," says the actor.

She believes people are two-faced in their opinion about girls who wear revealing clothes. "When I was representing my country in a two-piece, it was fine. But when I did it on my own, it was not right (according to people). I will only not do something if it brings shame to my family," she adds.
